Home Improvement and Energy Conservation Laboratory Information Request

Neighborhood Housing Services has transformed 24 Hudson Street, adjacent to our Sherman Avenue office, into a state-of-the-art Home Improvement and Energy Conservation Laboratory. Classes taught at the lab will teach new and existing homeowners home maintenance and energy conservation skills through hands-on learning. There is a $20 course fee and participation in our financial management and budgeting workshop is a prerequisite.

YES! I am interested in receiving more information about these Workshops!

NHS also offers a matching savings program called the Home Maintenance and Energy Conservation Individual Development Account (IDA). This program provides a dollar-for-dollar match up to $5,000 as long as a participant saves his/her own funds for at least one year, attends financial fitness courses, and uses the funds for approved repairs. This program is for first-time homebuyers as well as existing homeowners. Income restrictions apply. Would you be interested in receiving more information about this program? YES NO
